

ShopTalk DAILY TIPS FOR LOOKING GOOD AND LIVING WELL

How to Visit an Art Fair

So, I'm off to do a video interview for our website with Chris Byrne. In case you haven't read any magazines or newspapers in the last month or so, and have only been perusing this high level blog, he is one of the developers of the first Dallas Art Fair next week February 6 - 8 at the Fashion Industry Gallery. It is just one more piece of the amazing art scene that we are seeing developing here in Dallas, look for the opening of the Dallas Contemporary later this year. I'll be asking questions that we all have, like what is an art fair, how are dealers chosen, how to visit, and, most importantly, what kind of rides will they have and will there be cotton candy. I'll let you know.

posted by Peggy Levinson | January 30th, 2009 11:15am | filed under Arts Events | 0 Comments »