

ARTNOTES

FAIRGAME

Move over, Miami. At last, the first-ever national — and long overdue — Texas art fair arrives this month. Cognoscenti and collectors will make tracks north as the Dallas Art Fair unfurls Friday through Sunday, February 6 through 8, in the downtown Arts District's Fashion Industry Gallery. Tony sponsors include Moët Hennessy USA, Neiman Marcus, Rosewood Hotels & Resorts and Sotheby's. And did we mention the dealers? Thirty-one notable gallerists from 12 cross-continental art hubs will exhibit top works in many media by significant modern and contemporary visualists. When will Houston follow suit? Daily tickets from $20, including symposium admission; dallasartfair.com. Catherine D. Ansporn

Kiki Smith's Sitting with a Snake, 2007, at Pace Prints